AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT

How does a second baseman break up double steals?

Answered by WALTER (RABBIT) MARANVILLE.

Shortstop, Pittsburgh Pirates: A superb shortstop and one of the most colorful players in the game.

A good second baseman has the habit of breaking up double steals. The baseball fans naturally look to him to crack such steals in their infancy.

With a runner on first base and one on third, the second baseman cuts in for the throw from the catcher in case of a double steal and gets the man at home plate by quick return throw. The diagram shows this clearly. The second baseman, in this play, cuts in about ten feet—directly in front of second base—to take the throw from the catcher, making an effort to put out the player sliding into second.

Harry Greb's Favorite Sport Is Not Mitt Game

Harry Greb's favorite sport as one might imagine, is boxing, but close behind the glove game in his estimation is baseball. When he is at home in Pittsburgh he rarely misses an afternoon at Forbes field, and the failure of the Pirates to win the pennant in 1922, after they had got away to such a fine start, was a hard blow for the fighter. Last year he was kept busy on the stage with his fist engagements and so has not had a chance to see any ball games, but he has kept track of the boys on all the teams. He is not overoptimistic about the chances of the Pirates to win the flag this year, though he still is a great Pirate rooster. He is of the opinion that if they had Billy S. Southworth in right field they would be considerably stronger, for he regards Southworth as one of the best all-round men in baseball.

BASEBALL SQUIDS

There are 35 minor baseball leagues in operation this season.

Pennsylvania has produced more baseball stars than any other state.

The plate umpire makes an average of 200 decisions during a ball game.

Shreveport has recalled Al Wise, hitting outfielder of the Corsicana team.

It won't be long now before baseball scribes will be referring to the "crosstul series."

Galveston has sold Pitcher Joe Kiefer to Bay City of the Michigan-Ontario league.

President O'Brien of Toledo has released First Baseman Lee Dempsey unconditionally.

Infielder Bush has been sent to the Bartlesville team of the Western association by Denver.

Memphis has sold Pitcher George Carroll to the Monroe (La.) team of the Cotton States league.

Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and the two Boston clubs have the largest playing fields in the major leagues.

Johnny O'Shaughnessy, former star Citadel college shortstop, has been released by the Spartanburg club.

Al Simmons, catcher, and Chris Speyer, outfielder, have been given their unconditional release by Toronto.

Parnham, of Baltimore, broke Marquand's record of 19 consecutive pitching victories last year with 20 straight wins.

Mike Sagnolowsky is the newest pitcher for the Chicago Americans. He is a right hander, six feet tall, and weighs 190 pounds.

If batter swings at third strike at a ball which hits him and then bounds into the stand he is out and base runners cannot advance.

A knothole gang of 5,000 youths under twelve years of age will watch games free at Lincoln this year, under arrangements made by Owner Howard Wakenfield. The gates will be open to the kids on all days excepting Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

Hard to Hit

Any batter in the American League will tell you it is tough to hit Walter Johnson, the fireball king of pitchers. And any pitcher—not excepting Mr. Dempsey himself—will tell you it is no much to hit Tommy Gibson, best defensive pitcher in the class. This picture was taken the other day at the Washington park where the pitcher went down to the dugout to greet the crowd.

The Musical clubs of the Oneonta High school have been practicing for many months in preparation for the concert and those who have been fortunate enough to hear them say that the concert this year will surpass any of those in the past. Miss Perry, the music instructor of the Public schools of the city, is the very capable instructor for both the Musical clubs and the primary grades of the Academy Street school.

The concert is to be presented in the Oneonta High school auditorium on Friday, May 23. The price of admission is only 35c.

Otsego County Barristers Pay Tribute to Justice James Hill

Man Now Presiding for First Time At Term of Supreme Court in Otsego County Honored by Members of Bar Association and Distinguished Guests at Dinner at Hotel Oneonta.

Tribute sincere and unaffected—tribute of a quality which it is given few dwellers in this mundane sphere to receive, was given to Justice James P. Hill of Norwich, now presiding at a term of supreme court in Otsego county for the first time since his elevation to the bench, by the Otsego County Bar association and invited guests at a banquet held last evening at the Hotel Oneonta. The expressions of confidence in his ability and integrity and of esteem for his human qualities were from the heart and could have left little doubt in Justice Hill's mind that among the barristers of this county he has many warm friends.

The banquet was of the quality which has given widespread fame to the hospitality of the Otsego Bar association and the occasion was keenly enjoyed by the entire company of 125, which included a majority of the lawyers of the county, distinguished citizens of the city, and the following guests from various places in the judicial district:

District Attorney Ward N. Truesdell of Sherburne, District Attorney Nathan Turk of Candor, Captain Daniel E. Fox of troop C, state troopers, Sidney J. MacManus of Oneonta, and Edward R. Senn, Riley Heath and Fitch Stevens of Ithaca, and Judge W. M. Sullivan, Judge P. P. Henry, United States Commissioner James B. Flanagan and former District Attorney David F. Lee of Norwich.

Following a delicious meal and a program of songs, entered into with great vim and gusto under the leadership of Jerry B. Wilson of this city, with the Ben Ten orchestra furnishing the accompaniment, the toast list was commenced.

Charles C. Flasech of Unadilla, president of the association, presided and the toast list was a more felicitous mood. With humor positively pasting description and with powers of oratory that would have made Demosthenes blush for very shame, Mr. Flasech led the assault with his pick-a-quid of speakers and swept all before him off their feet.

Speakers Drawn by Lot.

The toast list printed on the menu card characterized the speakers in word and wonderful manner, but failed to give their names and Mr. Flasech announced that the names of those present would be placed in a hat and that men whose names were drawn therefrom would be asked to make the addresses of the evening. Accordingly the names were mixed in the covering of one of the massive brown present and D. J. Kilkenny, introduced as the "Colonel House" of the meeting approached the "throne of the league of villians" and drew forth the names of the doomed.

The first speaker was B. O. Johnson of Cooperstown, the "ladpole or pollywog" of the toast list, who expressed his disappointment and chagrin at the turn of fortune which had thrown him into the limelight, thanked the company for the honor bestowed upon him and yielded the floor to the next victim of Mr. Flasech's fiendish scheme, who was Judge William H. Sullivan of Norwich. Mr. Sullivan began with a discussion of the twisted political situation in Chenango county and ended his short but clever speech with a compliment to Justice Hill, whose ability, genius for public work and intense interest in public affairs had gained him his present high position.

"Chenango, which in reality had only looked on during the proceeding, took a complete rest at that point.

BISHOP TO VISIT ST. JAMES'

Rev. J. G. Oldham, D. D., to Administer Rite of Confirmation Tomorrow.

The Rt. Rev. J. G. Ashton Oldham, D. D., bishop of the Albany diocese, will administer the rite of confirmation at St. James' Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening.

During the morning and Schenectady during the afternoon. The confirmation class will meet for its last instruction with the rector in the church at noon.

This will be Bishop Oldham's first visit to St. James' parish for the purpose of confirmation. He was here some months ago to launch the drive for the new parish house. There will be special music tomorrow night. The public is cordially invited to the service.

Memorials Worthy of the Name.

That indestructible thing which distinguishes Saint Gauden's Statue of Grief in St. Creek cemetery, Washington, D. C., from the Soldiers' statue made by the workmen in tombstone manufacturing yards.

The drapery of the Winged Victory is alive because it was made by an artist. The cloak on the soldier at parade rest on the majority of Civil war monuments are dead. Yet there are folds in each and each hangs from a figure. An artist modeled the Winged Victory. A mechanic made the Soldier. We are holding fast to the memorial idea and giving much thought to the subject of design with respect for the laws of art.

Appreciation of this feature of our business is truly manifest in the order for a forty-five hundred dollar monument just received from H. G. Seely of Walden, N. Y., mention of which is made in another column of this issue of The Star.

It affords us pleasure in co-operating with anyone in the selection of memorials of originality and worthy of the name. We maintain a designing and drafting department where we create the best in memorial art and the public in general is welcome to the benefits derived through this department. Stock we use in our memorials together with the workmanship is absolutely guaranteed whether a large monument or just a small marker.

Just now there are on display in our show rooms and on our yard a large variety of memorials to select from for immediate delivery. We lead. Not follow. Dauley & Wright, 42-45 Broad street, Oneonta, N. Y. advt 11

Members of Womanless Wedding Cast Have Their Pictures Taken.

Pictures of some of the members of the cast which will present the Womanless Wedding at the Oneonta theatre May 19 and 20 have been taken for use in advertising the Rotary-Kiwanis production and in a few days Oneontians will be privileged to gaze upon the most prominent business and professional men. One glance will cause a rush to the nearest seller of tickets for the big show.

The next big rehearsal will take place on Tuesday evening next and it is hoped that every member of the big cast and chorus will be present. The cast is now practically complete and the talent committee has already secured the services of a majority of the persons who will appear in the specialty acts. Miss Clementine Miller, the director, and members of the various committees are busily engaged these days and all things point to an amateur production of unsurpassed merit.

"TWEEDLES" IMPROVED

Excellent Presentation of Thursday Evening Surprised in Every Detail Last Evening.

While those who saw "Tweedles" at the High school on Thursday evening were treated to an evening of exceptional pleasure, still the larger audience of last evening was even more fortunate, for the presentation moved more smoothly, and with a freedom which characterized all amateur repetitions. While no figures are available as to the amount realized by the club, it is estimated by sales manager of the club, Harold Thayer, who has spent no little time in the promotion of the play, that the sum will approach $400.

Every member of the cast improved his characterization last evening. Charles Lutesey, manager of the work was inadvertently omitted in The Star of Friday, again played Mr. Castlebury with conviction, every mannerism being quite fitting to the role.

Eaton Goldthwaite, Judson Lutesey, and Duncan Briggs in the three leading male parts again scored a triumph for themselves and for Miss Wagner, of the faculty of the school, coach of the play. Joseph Ryan as Ambrose, young brother of Winners, considerably improved his rendition last evening, for in his role was naturalness most essential.

Miss Winifred Kinne as Winsora carried the feminine lead well through a host of difficult lines, while Miss Katherine Gallagher as Miss Alaborgone in an adult characterization helped through the whole three acts, her presence being almost as imperative as was the stage setting.

Miss Vesta Chamberlain as Mrs. Ricketts and Miss Helen Roberts as Mrs. Castlebury again played their roles with almost faultless technique and were responsible for many of the laughs.

The other features of the program of Thursday evening were presented last night and received hearty applause.

Miss Rowland, Miss Kraft, and Mr. Lawler of the school faculty served as promoter, mistress of wardrobe and business manager and to them was the thanks of the club extended.

MOTHER'S DAY.

Celebration in Churches on Sunday of National Tribute of Reverence.

All of the city churches are uniting in the observance of Mother's Day on Sunday, the nationally maintained date, but in many Oneonta societies a meeting has already been dedicated to a program. Still none of these celebrations will take the place of the little personal attentions which will be especially paid to "mother."

Besides the bus and the kiss, and the words she so likes to hear, florists and confectioners and other merchants have provided a number of fitting gifts especially for the day.

Do as You Darn Please.

Henry went bug house over jazz music, the grizzly hug dance, flappers and the movies, is now old, has lost his job, is stubbing around with a cane and with no place to lay his head.

Henry's desperate situation shows him, the farmers dogs pursue him and bite him if they can. Sam placed $10 per month with me and with the help of state laws and Uncle Sam, I safely rolled it, at six per cent compound interest, helped him to pay for a home of his own, with all modern conveniences, besides having several hundred dollars in one of my savings books, as a bridge to carry him over troubles. Wake up or shut up about not having a fair chance and square deal, for I give both and am now helping several thousand people like Sam to make good. My latch string is always out at No. 54 Chestnut street; so do as you darn please, as all I get out of it is teaching people how to avoid being fools and having to pass the hat for them later. Nuff Sed. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt 11

Figures in Baby-Stealing Case

Mrs. Harry Modell (above), Philadelphia, with her 10-week-old baby Corina, stolen by Mrs. Mary De Marco (below), who confessed that she had taken the child in an effort to deceive her husband into believing she had become a mother. Mrs. De Marco told police that she had assured her husband that a baby would soon join the family and, in desperation, had kidnaped the Modell baby. Mrs. Modell is shown just after the baby was returned. Mrs. De Marco, held for trial, is in a state of collapse.

The Good Maxwell Noted For Its Rugged Strength

Perhaps the most notable feature of the good Maxwell—besides its economical, care-free service—is the all-around satisfaction it gives its owners.

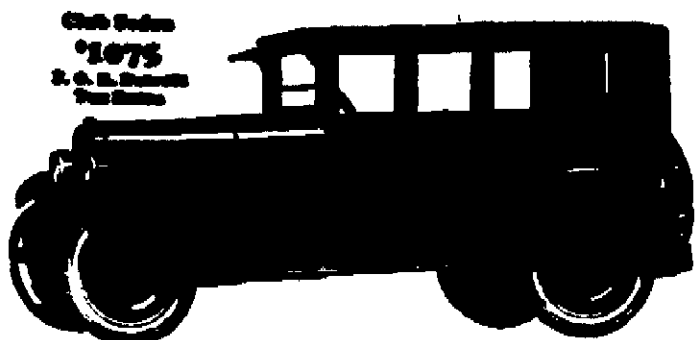

It is one of the strongest, most rugged cars built today. It is extremely durable. Owners will tell you that it averages well over 22 miles to the gallon of gasoline, and that it returns 18,000 miles or more to a set of tires.

Its performance is worthy of a far higher price. For instance, it accelerates from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 8 seconds. Its ease of riding and handling is outstanding, and its beauty is almost too well known to need comment.

The COTTAGE GARDENER

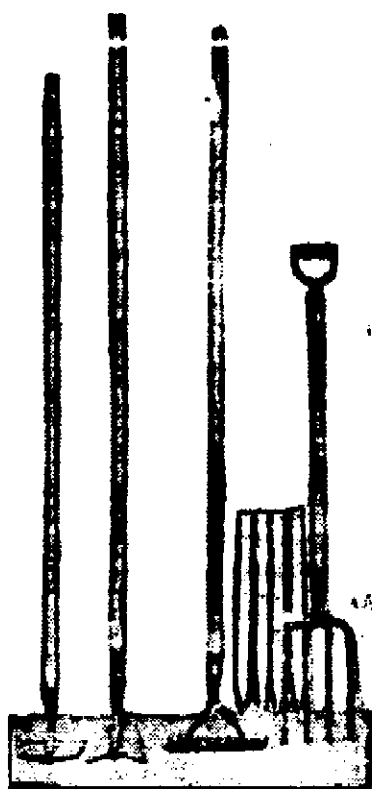

Need Only Simple Tools for Garden

Spade, Rake and Hoe Will Be Sufficient for Your Small Space.

Nearly every hardware store and practically all of the seed houses keep a supply of garden tools for sale. The amateur gardener is often tempted to purchase a larger number of tools than is justified by the results obtained in a small garden. The three most essential tools recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture are a spade or spading fork, a hoe, and a rake. The question as to whether a spade or spading fork should be purchased will depend upon the character of the soil. If the soil is heavy and of a clay nature a spade will be best for turning it up, but if it is gravelly, sandy or loamy, the spading fork will put it in better condition than will the spade. When it comes to the selection of a hoe, just a plain, thin-bladed hoe about 6 or 7 inches in width is best. A pointed or marling hoe may be rather desirable, but the marks in which to plant seeds can practically all be made with the corner of the regular hoe. A rake is needed for pulverizing the soil, and here again the plainest and simplest type of steel rake is best.

In selecting any of these tools the quality of the material in the blade or metal part and a good, straight-grained, smooth handle are the essentials. To these tools the gardener can easily add a few simple implements of his own manufacture. These may consist of a couple of wooden stakes and a line of any strong cord, a paddle made from a shingle or thin piece of board and a little scratcher made by driving three wire brads through the end of a piece of lath. The line should be used for all planting in order to have the rows straight, the paddle is suitable for setting the plants, and the scratcher is useful for working between small plants.

When the tools such as spade or spading fork, hoe and rake are purchased from the store, the metal parts will be bright and new, and, as a rule, the handles have no paint or other dressing upon them. It is a good plan to give the handles a thorough coating with shellac, as this will help keep the moisture from penetrating them. The blades should be kept bright and clean and oiled with any good grease, to which is added about one part lime to three parts oil in order to counteract any free acids that may be present in the oil. Just oil alone does not make a good coating for bright surfaces, as the free acid contained in the oil may cause the implements to rust even while thoroughly coated with the grease and lime will correct this acid condition of the oil. Keeping the tools housed in a dry place is most important in connection with their preservation. Never, under any circumstances, should a spade or spading fork be left standing in the soil, as the chemical elements of the soil will immediately attack the steel and a good spade may be completely ruined by standing in the soil overnight.

HARDY PERENNIALS

In planting hardy perennials on the home grounds they should be planted in irregular clumps at appropriate openings in the shrubbery groups but not in bands or ribbons either along the shrubbery, the foundation of the house, or the borders of the lawn.

YUCCAS

The yuccas, including Adam's needle and beargrass, are excellent evergreen summer flowering plants for dry situations.

Days in Tog of War

Wanted for Tog—Two toy dogs, being a lot of war over a piece of meat, held up before the boys. They had been here, ignored efforts of police to get them out of the way and simply didn't know the use of power of force. Two policemen picked the up, made up and placed them on a sidewalk, where they were still sitting when the last blockaded machine went by.

Judge Electric Washing Machines by These Standards

MAKE sure that the machine you buy comes up to these requirements

- 1—It must wash clothes absolutely clean, without injury.
- 2—It must be easy and safe to operate.
- 3—It must have proven its dependability without a shadow of doubt.
- 4—It must be trouble-proof, low in upkeep, and give a lifetime of service.

If you will see the Thor demonstrated at our store or watch it in operation at the home of a friend, you will readily see how the Hurley-Thor fulfills every one of these requirements. For seventeen years, it has been doing its work well—ask any ten housewives which is the leading washing machine today—the majority will answer, "Thor." More Thors are in use than any other washing machine.

Above is illustrated Hurley-Thor Model 25 with its revolving, revolving cylinder and all-metal, outlying electric wringer with the soft cushion rolls that can't break bottoms.

A FEW SMILES

Young Mr. Staylate painfully picked himself up from the spot on the hard sidewalk where he had landed when his father, asked him out. "Motorically speaking," he remarked, as he brushed off his clothes, "this is being told home, all right!" — Omaha Enquirer.

"Well, sir," said Ted Diefendang of Turkey Trot, "when I was over at Shupery Nip (yesterday) I listened to a queer trial."
"Did, eh?"
"Eh-yeah! They had a couple of brothers-in-law up for fighting. Bears away on the witness stand, the brother Walter had pulled out Tobe Snatch's whiskers by the roots. Well, after the jury had studied the case for quite a spell they took and turned Jim loose and freed Tobe. I reckon the joke of a shake!" — Kansas City Star.

"I'm a plain, blunt man," said Mr. Grouch.
"Well, your tongue is sharp enough," snapped his wife — Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Mrs. Uppish sleeps 12 hours out of every 24."
"Did her physician advise it?"
"No, she said that the average person needs about seven hours, but she considers herself far above the average." — Boston Transcript.

"Your grandmother says the clothes now worn are absurd."
"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne, "I understand that is what great-grandmother used to say about grandmother's clothes." — Washington Star.

"There goes Saddle Blue, who used to always be making mountains out of molehills."
"Yes, and judging by the way she spends, she is now making molehills out of mountains of money." — Florida Times-Union.

Tom—"Where's your better half?"
Dick—"Don't know. Never was good at fractions." — American Legion Weekly.

Wife (presenting hubby with birthday present)—"I saved the money to buy it, dear."
Hub—"How did you manage it, precious?"
Wife—"I bought it with the money you gave me for a hat and had the hat charged to your account." — Boston Transcript.

Family Physician—"I'm afraid, Mrs. Gaybird, your husband is in a bad way. The trouble is he has overdrawn his account at the bank of vitality."
Mrs. Gaybird—"I felt sure he was deceiving me about something. He never told me he had an account there." — Boston Transcript.

"My wife wants to have an interview with you at your convenience," said the man.
"With me?" replied his employer.
"What's the trouble?"
"Nothing. But she's convinced that I'm worth more money than I'm getting and I've told her to come down and give the same line of talk to you." — Detroit Free Press.

"One thing I like about radio is that it helps you to forget your business troubles."
"Wait," replied Mr. Groucher, "until the system is further commercialized. I have no doubt the bill collectors will have broadcasting stations known as 'IOU' and 'COD'."

"Can you keep a secret?"
"Yes, but if I find it too weighty I'll get several other girls to assist me." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

Clerk—"I hold that the guest is always right."
Guest—"But I have my wife with me!" — Life.

Wild Geese 67 Years Old
Are Still Thriving on Farm

New York.—Wild geese are sometimes said to be centenarians, but there has been difficulty in proving the statement. Some evidence has been presented, however, by Henry Stark, who writes:

"In 1885 an uncle of Henry Stark captured two Canada geese in a net spread along the beach of the Chickasaw Islands, in Chesapeake bay. Since that time this pair of geese have been paddling around farms owned by members of the Stark family."

"A few years ago the uncle died at the ripe old age of eighty-one, but the two Canada geese are still thriving and alert and seemingly in the prime of their youth."

"No one knows how old these geese were when captured, but Mr. Stark says he has evidence that they are 67 now and he hopes they will prove the statement that wild geese live to be 101."

Many Beauty Experts
Seek Jobs on Liner

Since the Leviathan went into dry dock at South Boston more than 300 manicurists, wrinkle experts, hair dressers, pedicurists and other types of exterior decorators have applied for employment aboard the ship.

James R. Prentiss, general manager of the United States Lines, believes that the applications are the result of rumors that only millionaires travel by the Leviathan. He says the vessel carries only four official millionaires, three hair dressers and has no billers for wrinkle browers or foot manicuring.

It is true, as reported, that King George of England proposes, when a reasonable time presents itself, to abolish the office of post laureate, there is at least no danger of a like fate overtaking a somewhat similar post, that of Master of King's Music. A new incumbent has just been appointed by the King to succeed the late Mr. Walter Parratt, who had held the office for nearly a quarter of a century. — Philadelphia Record.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK,
FIRE SHOT, STEAL $7,500

Chicago, May 9. — Four bandits held up and robbed the 22nd Street State bank in Berwyn, a suburb, yesterday, used a shot at a watchman, and escaped with $7,500 in currency. The watchman was unhurt.

Charles Kopink, the president, was at his desk when the robbers entered. Three other employees were in the bank. As two of the robbers vaulted over the rail in front of the president's desk, the watchman in the rear room started forward to resist. The bandit passed through the man in which he had been sitting.

Men Who Go Broke.

In the long run it is the bears in the United States who go broke. The men who recognize the turn, who understand the significance of the recovery in oil and livestock, and the wonderful prospect in wheat, and make preparations to handle the business that will result, are the men who will win. — Kansas City Times.

"I see it says here some of them London banks have been doing business for 30 years and more and never closed their doors."

"Dear me, how careless! I wonder anybody trusts 'em with their money!" — London Tit-Bits.

Oneonta will soon become a city absolutely immune from diphtheria.
